

love yourjob .uk.com

BARAK OBAMA
4 AUGUST 1961
7-24 PM
HONOLULU, HAWAII

Thank you for ordering this report. I hope that it will put you on the right path to a fulfilling and rewarding career.

Only you can offer what you do and you need to ensure that you find the opportunity in your career life to best express your creative self.

So where does creativity come into it? We are all capable of creative expression, in whatever form that creativity takes. You could be capable of creating innovative ideas, inspired communication - whether it be writing, speaking, teaching or relating to others. You could be a master at bringing practical form to ideas or the intangible. Creativity of course also takes the more physical forms of sculpting, drawing, music, singing, painting, sport or dancing.

It might take some courage to make the necessary changes; perhaps you need to re-skill or overcome obstacles that are currently standing in your way. What ever it takes, I hope that the information contained in this report will assist you in choosing a direction that will provide you with years of fulfilment and stimulation.

HOW TO USE THIS REPORT

The information presented in this report is designed to give you as many options as possible.

A satisfying and fulfilling career is not based purely on the actual work you do. You have different needs that have to be fulfilled, and many interests that need to be stimulated. Therefore it is important that you become familiar with all the information in this guide to gain the most benefit. Make sure to read all the information in blue as this will explain how each piece of information fits into the greater picture.

This report is offered as a guide only. Only you can make decisions for yourself based on your current situation, needs and circumstances. Maybe your choice of career or career/job change will be a simple one to implement but perhaps due to your personal circumstances you will need to make interim and long-term plans of how to reach your career goals. Please seek the advice of a professional should you feel that you need more assistance with the planning and implementing of any major changes.

The report is divided into 2 separate sections:

PERSONALITY AND DISPOSITION

The first section covers your unique personality and disposition. Your personal needs have to be fulfilled by any work that you may do and your attributes valued in order for you to feel that you are making a contribution that makes use of your personal strengths and self expression and that gives you a sense of security, satisfaction and fulfilment on an inner level.

OVERVIEW OF CAREER, WORKING ENVIRONMENT AND EARNING CAPACITY

This broad overview will narrow down your areas of interest, look at what your daily work environment might be like and highlight the areas of your own earning potential. And to add a little balance to your life, see what you could do 'just for the love of it'.

Make special note of any recurring themes that appear throughout this report, they will be a very strong indicator of the direction you need to follow or of personal traits you need to be especially aware of.

Conflicting information will be contained in this report reflecting the complexity of human nature. For example, you might be described as helpful and selfless in one section and self involved and selfish in another, both of these will be relevant but they will each be triggered under different circumstances. Also, each might be best used to your advantage at different times.

PERSONALITY AND DISPOSITION

Manner of self expression, interests and ideals

Inner fulfilment needs

Approach to work and how others perceive you

- Supplementary Info

This first section looks at what interests and motivates you, in order to know immediately what work or job will suit your personality and needs best. While you might have suitable skills for a particular job or career area, if the work or work environment doesn't suit you, you will never be satisfied with what you are doing.

How others perceive you is also important to assess whether your skills and talents will be apparent or if you will need to make a special point of promoting them. Knowing all this will give you an advantage when making the important choice of what career to work within.

WHAT DO YOU NEED TO BE ABLE TO DO AT WORK AND WHAT DO YOU NEED BACK?

You will really prosper and shine doing work that highlights how very good you are at what you do. You take immense pride in doing a job exceptionally well and being held in high regard because of it. In fact, a lack of recognition and respect will completely dampen your spirits and cause you to move on to another job very quickly.

No subordinate roles for you, you need to be in charge, in the limelight, in control, directing the works, overseeing it all – right in the middle of the action with loads of people contact. Being swamped by too much fussy detail or too much routine won't work for you and definitely no boredom please.

Areas to be aware of:

- It is important that you learn to set up efficient systems and routines in your everyday working day in order to be as well organised as possible.
- A great deal of energy goes into your work and you need to pay particular attention to your health and well being.

WHAT ABOUT YOUR EMOTIONAL COMFORT AND INNER SECURITY?

You will feel most comfortable working from home, for a family business or with people who are exceptionally warm, accepting and supportive – people who feel like family.

It is important for you to establish a firm personal foundation - confidence and security - on which to build your life. Your emotional sense of security will come through having family and strong home base. Career wise, you will truly be at your best when surrounded by a loving family of your own.

However, you also need a constant flow of new, different and interesting – people, places and knowledge. Too much routine, predictability and boredom will cause great stress for you.

AND HOW DO OTHERS PERCEIVE YOU?

With your broad range of interests you seem to be able to have something to talk about with just about anyone, on any level. ‘The common touch’. That, combined with your genuine interest in people and your willingness to help them solve problems, makes you very likeable. People will tend to support you in business or in your career simply because they like you.

At interviews you are able to come across as a breath of fresh air - open, honest, friendly, imaginative, humorous and original.

On the other hand you are just as likely to say or do something completely unpredictable or shocking just to be contrary.

Whatever work you do, you’ll need a lot of freedom to exercise that highly original brand of personal expression you have.

There is magic in the air when you are about.

Areas to be aware of:

- Weird and eccentric doesn’t go down too well when selling yourself and ideas to others.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFO modifying how others perceive you or the approach you have to life

You tend to be open, expressive and confident one day and withdrawn the next. People don’t always react to you in the way you expect them to because of this.

Your desire for freedom and individuality sometimes gets channelled through very impulsive, restless and at times, flighty behaviour. You plan on doing one thing but suddenly find yourself distracted by something terribly interesting and you are off on a tangent without a second thought. This can be very limiting on your relations with others as you don’t complete any one thing and others affected by your initial plans will interpret this as thoughtless or even offensive behaviour. You also need to be aware that your reaction to any suggestion of thoughtlessness from others comes across a lot worse than you intended. There is a need for you to create a pause before acting to consider the effect of your actions on others.

You are an extremely resourceful, clever and imaginative person, but there is a danger that all that marvellous originality will be completely overshadowed by your restlessness.

OVERVIEW OF CAREER, WORKING ENVIRONMENT AND EARNING POTENTIAL

Career and career field

- Fields connected to career
- Supplementary Info

Daily work environment

Earning potential

- Fields connected with earning

Just for the love of it

- Supplementary info

General information pertaining to overall career

WHAT CAREER AND WHAT ELEMENTS OF A CAREER WILL ATTRACT YOU?

In order to feel a true sense of pleasure and satisfaction in your career, it is essential that the work you do stimulates some very specific interests and fulfils some specific requirements. This is what is sometimes referred to as your life mission or purpose. Keep in mind that what you need to do in order to feel fulfilled might not always be suitable to support yourself or a family. If this is the case, the section on earning potential will point to alternate earning routes or sources.

Work that offers you the chance to go researching, analysing, investigating, digging and generally ferreting out hidden, repressed or secret information will attract you. Or perhaps work literally involving life and death.

Alternatively, work involved in transforming, recycling, renewing or reviving the tired, broken, worn out or unwanted. Future trends could be your interest or work that is considered to be taboo or undesirable could also be just what you enjoy. Secrecy and subterfuge comes naturally to you so positions requiring confidentiality will suit you down to the ground.

You need to feel in control and don't like being thwarted indicating that a self managed position or a position of power would be ideal for you.

Once you've set your focus on a goal, you will use your stamina to work hard and do whatever it takes to achieve success.

Now read through 'Fields connected to career' and combine the most appealing from this career section with the specific areas listed. Be sure to take information from the section 'Personality and disposition' into account when considering these fields.

BEST FIELDS FOR YOUR CAREER

It is not intended that all of these fields will interest you, but one or two will. Or your interest might be piqued by something you hadn't thought of before.

Any of:

- Working in partnership
- Working with the public
- Work to do with relationships and relating
- Arbitration, negotiation, mediation, ombudsman, agents, trade unions, conflict resolution, community rules and laws
- Trial law & litigation
- Counselling
- Consulting
- Art – sculpting, fine arts, art dealerships, architecture, designers, graphic artists, appraisers
- Interior decorating, landscape gardening, painting
- Matchmaking
- Work to do with mediums and psychics
- Social functions
- Beautician, hairdressing
- Crafts - potter, weaving
- Gynaecological practice or work

Please note that while a particular field may be suggested, for example entertainment, this does not necessarily mean you should be an entertainer as such, but rather that you will enjoy working within that industry.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFO modifying your approach to the career arena

Luck and good fortune should always be on your side with regards to your career as opportunities just seem to present themselves to you. You could lack the motivation to act on them however. You are supportive and encouraging of others and usually get the support and cooperation you need with ease.

While being friendly and likeable, your need to keep the peace unfortunately makes you avoid any sort of conflict, thereby putting a firm lid on personal and creative expression.

Any work where you can make use of your factual, analytical skills will suit you right down to the ground. You express yourself well and will always tend to come across well.

An underlying feeling that you are not good enough or don't have sufficient talent makes you work harder than others might. Therefore you could achieve more success than your counterparts in the long term.

You are always in search of the right vehicle to express your true self, often leaping in 'where angels fear to tread' but you prefer to follow your own course without any un-asked for advise and interference. Restlessness and a need for change can drive you to chop and change your way through projects, jobs, careers etc throughout your life.

You might feel uncomfortable in work putting you in the limelight or requiring too much social contact as it will tend to highlight your feelings of insecurity. However involvement in environments where you can nurture people or animals will help you gain more confidence in this area.

YOUR WORK ENVIRONMENT

You will be happiest in a nurturing and supportive environment. Working from home or for a family run business would suit you down to the ground. You don't like too much change and it can take a while for you to adapt to new environments. You prefer working in a city.

MONEY AND HOW BEST TO EARN IT

These are the skills you have that will assist you in acquiring income.

You are sensitive, intuitive, compassionate, empathic, imaginative and creative. And you truly enjoy helping others solve their problems – but it's important for your own sense of self value to be paid for helping others and not to give everything away. You will get the most satisfaction by ensuring that your personal visions, ideas and intuitions/feelings are interpreted through the work you do.

Supportive co-workers and a positive and gentle working environment will be of great benefit.

The fields listed below are specific areas where you could earn. Remember to take all the information from this report into account when considering these fields.

BEST FIELDS FOR EARNING

It is not intended that all of these fields will interest you, but one or two will. Or your interest might be piqued by something you hadn't thought of before.

Any of:

- Work to do with large institutions / government work
- Charities, welfare and relief organisations
- Homes for the destitute, elderly
- Healing humanity
- Hospitals, clinics, asylums, morgues
- Anything connected with detention, correction and imprisonment
- Work to do with drugs, alcohol and addiction
- Photography, illusion
- Music, poetry, ghost writing
- Oceanography, diving
- Night work

- Behind-the-scenes work, research
- Alcohol workers and dealers
- Confidential positions, secret service, foreign/undercover agents, private investigators
- Work dealing with criminals
- Antiques dealers, second hand goods dealers, scrap dealers
- Convents, monasteries
- Animals (large and/ fierce) – veterinarian, game wardens, zoo workers
- Spiritual work
- Occult religions, psychics, paranormal, mystical
- Oil wells and workers
- Shoe manufacture and workers
- Any work to do with feet

Please note that while a particular field may be suggested, for example entertainment, this does not necessarily mean you should be an entertainer as such, but rather that you will enjoy working within that industry.

'JUST FOR THE LOVE OF IT'

To find what it is that brings you absolute delight and what you thoroughly enjoy doing, combine any of the elements in the following two descriptions. The results should not come as a surprise to you but should induce you to ensure that you include more of those activities in your life to increase your overall balance and enjoyment of life. And if you are lucky, it could be an area where you could earn an income doing it.

Grand plans, grand schemes and grand designs – on a grand scale. Living in a foreign country or foreign interests of any kind. Travel, learning, adventure, international humanitarianism, sport, advertising, public relations, philosophy, religion or spirituality. combined with any of:

- Positions of authority and high office
- Public and social status, achievement, fame
- Political heads and leaders
- Property development
- Orchestra conductor
- Diamond cutting, geology
- Monuments, masons
- Leather work
- Astronomy
- Physicist
- Civil engineering
- Osteopathy

It is not intended that all of these fields will interest you, but one or two will. Or your interest might be piqued by something you hadn't thought of before.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFO

Nothing to note.

GENERAL INFORMATION pertaining to your career

You can bring about change by making use of your own strengths and self expression.

Disciplined, hard working and prepared to go the distance to reach goals.

An independent and unconventional spirit, you must have the freedom to investigate the new and unusual, to develop your own opinions and ideas and to freely express them. You have a great need for adventure and new knowledge.

You articulate what you are thinking and feeling exceptionally well.

Your optimism usually attracts good luck and fortune and really makes others feel more optimistic too. Travel and study will further your interests but you need to ensure that you don't ignore opportunities to increase your knowledge.

Because of a deep sense of insecurity, you find it hard to trust and because you need to feel in control at all times you can indulge in some very manipulative, controlling and demanding behaviour. You need to work on your insecurity in order to have more successful interaction with others.

Your organisational skills mixed with your excellent common sense are great for business.

Being contrary and challenging just for the sake of it can be limiting on your career and personal interactions. Make sure your job has you constantly on the move or you won't stay very long.

You could benefit by always checking your facts before forming opinions and taking risks.

You are not always able to clearly say what's on your mind and misunderstandings can be created.

Not one to rush decisions, you think everything through very carefully but you do tend to spend a great deal of time worrying. A tendency to get trapped in 'thinking ruts' can blind you to alternative information and solutions on which to base your opinions and make your decisions.

You have a need to develop and own your personal inner purpose and mission in life as there can be a tendency to be swayed and distracted by others. A desire for spiritual belief in and support from occult religious or mystical sources could lead you down the wrong path.

You'd far rather retreat into a warm daydream than accept the harsh truth about reality at times. You don't tend to see others as they really are

You know what you like and want but you don't necessarily want to work too hard to get it.

You have the potential for being very artistic, be sure to work at developing it. Your compassion ensures that you are well liked by people from all walks of life. Watch out for a tendency towards viewing partners through 'rose tinted glasses'.

Fit in or be your totally original self? Be a slave to responsibility and duty or be free? A dilemma which always seems to have you on edge. You need to find a balance between the two.

I wish you well on your path.